7. Dr. Gorelick, chair of the biology department was invited to discuss the revisions made in biology courses after the reviews were received from the pathways committee. He mentioned that BI-110 is under revision and new course BI-131 (3 hr/3 credit) is created. BI-170 was originally 3 credit lecture with BI-171 (lab) as coreq. The lab component is now introduced in the BI-170 to satisfy pathways learning outcomes and the students will get a double exposure to the same lab experiments if they are taking courses BI-170 and 171.
BIO-132 Foundations of Biology Laboratory, 3 laboratory hours, 1 credit course is under preparation.

The Committee requested that Vice President Steele and Dean Corradetti leave the room for further deliberations on what, if anything, was to be done about the STEM courses for which changes were made through the Pathways approval process but not involving vetting through the committee or Senate. They did leave and discussion ensued and agreement was reached that no action was needed at this time.
