

Status of QCC Graduates Six Months after Graduation

A CUNY Survey of Graduates is administered every year to recent Queensborough Community College graduates to capture the employment and educational status six months after graduation. Graph 1 shows the distribution of responses based on the most recent surveys. The majority of the survey respondents were attending school six months after graduation (75.1 percent, marked in blue shades in graph 1.) An additional 17.3 percent were working without attending school (marked in orange shades in graph 1) and 7.6 percent of the graduates responding to the survey were not working and not pursuing further education (gray in graph 1.)
