

North Shore Strategies is a New York City political consulting firm specializing in direct voter outreach and campaign coordination

We are trying to reach out to students and supporters across the city to engage them in the political process. This is not just about partisan issues, but participating in local politics.

This is a highly competitive fellowship program designed to teach students about civic engagement, interpersonal skills, the inner-workings of a modern day campaign operation and community organization and motivation through direct voter contact. While this fellowship is being sponsored by the North Shore Strategy consulting firm, the skills learned will be applicable beyond the political arena. Positions are being offered on a rolling basis up to election day, November 4th, and part time positions (15-20 hours/week) and full time positions (35-40 hours/week) are available. Paid positions will be considered in the future, based on the field performance. You can visit our website at <http://www.nsstrategy.com>.

Internship for credit. Please register for a Cooperative Education class.
