

Looking for Applied Research Experience? Be a playLab intern at the Child & Family Policy Center!

Apply If:

- ✓ You want to learn more about policy and research
- ✓ You enjoy working with kids and adults
- ✓ You have EXCELLENT interpersonal skills
- ✓ You are hands-on
- ✓ You are interested in working with underserved communities
- ✓ You are organized, timely, and enjoy collaborative work
- ✓ You are available a minimum of 12 hours/week for at least 6 months starting ASAP!
- ✓ This research experience may fulfill internship credits/hours
- ✓ Upperclassman are encouraged to apply
- ✓ **Spanish speakers strongly encouraged to apply****

“Early Experiences Matter”

Project Description: Field-based playLab interns will help with re-consenting Black and Latino families in three independent randomized samples in Queens and Brooklyn. These efforts support the longitudinal examination of a play-based home intervention aimed to increase school readiness for children growing up poor.

Summer & Fall 2016 Research Activities

- Re-consent all research participants in their homes
- Conduct semi-structured interviews with parents
- Learn how to work with SPSS & conduct preliminary analyses
- Be involved in retention efforts