Report of the President to the Academic Senate
May 13, 2014

Enrollment Update

- The Enrollment Management team activities are fully focused on reaching our new and continuing enrollment targets for Fall 2014. As of April, applications for freshmen are level, however, admitted freshmen have increased, possibly due to faster university application processing and more robust communication to applicants. Enrollment Management will continue to monitor this trend.
- Transfer application activity is healthy, showing modest gains in both applications and admitted students.
- The College opened for Direct Admit applications on April 25th and foot traffic to the Office of Admissions has increased significantly.
- In an effort to work more collaboratively and effectively with the Division of Academic Affairs, Dr. Brian Kerr and Ms. Laura Bruno are meeting with the Academic Chairs to discuss the information they need from the Enrollment Management team to better assist them with course planning and scheduling.

Advisement Updates

- Academic Advisement for new and continuing students is well underway. Continuing student advisement began March 17th and a robust campaign (postcards, email, social media, flat screens on campus) to encourage students who need advisement to do so by May 31st is ongoing. Please encourage those students required to meet with an academic adviser to do so as soon as possible.
- With more newly admitted students in the pipeline sooner, Academy Advisement has begun to advise and register new students earlier than last year (April 14th s. May 13th).
- Advisement is taking place across all Academies. Registration-ready students are being invited to advisement through Hobsons CRM technology and Academy Advisers have been asked to assume a more holistic "relationship manager"--screening students for foreign language and remedial speech placements as well as providing students with basic information on how to check on their financial aid status.

Faculty Honors

- Queensborough is very proud to celebrate five faculty colleagues who have been awarded the Chancellor's Research Fellowships for Community College Faculty: Dr. Aranzazu Borrachero, Foreign Languages and Literature, Dr. Jonathan Cornick, Mathematics and Computer Science, Dr. Megan Elias, History, Dr. Andrew Nguyen, Biological Sciences and Geology, Dr. Monica Trujillo, Biological Sciences and Geology. Congratulations to all!
- Congratulations to Dr. Paris Svoronos, Department of Chemistry, on his invitation to serve as a first round judge for the 2014 Carnegie/CASE U.S. Professors of the Year awards. Each year, The Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) honors faculty as outstanding professors in several categories, including community colleges, senior colleges, and graduate schools. This national award recognizes significant contributions by faculty as leaders in their sectors to advance teaching and student learning, in the classroom and as mentors. Dr. Svoronos is a past recipient of this award, honored in Washington D. C. as the U.S. Outstanding Community College Professor in 2003.

Student Awards

- Ms. Yueting Chen, who graduated with an Associate degree in Liberal Arts and Sciences from Queensborough in January 2014, is the recipient of a Jack Kent Cooke Foundation Undergraduate Transfer Scholarship. The competitive scholarship—the first of its kind awarded to a Queensborough student—provides up to $30,000 per year to top community college transfer students seeking to complete a bachelor's degree. It is the largest private scholarship for community college transfer students in the country. Awardees this year included 85 finalists selected from 3,705 applications representing 737 community colleges from across the U.S. Yueting is now a junior at Stony Brook University and is conducting research in genetics. Qualified students must demonstrate exceptionally high academic ability and Yueting carried a 3.9 G.P.A. at Queensborough. Aside from her outstanding academic achievements, Yueting also demonstrated leadership in the community and financial need. Several professors were key players in guiding her through the application process, namely her mentors, Drs. Paris Svoronos of the Department of Chemistry, who sparked her interest in the sciences; Emily Tai of the Department of History, who nominated her for the award; and Raji Subramaniam, Department of Biological Sciences and Geology, who wrote a recommendation letter on her behalf; and, Adjunct Lecturer James Geasor of the Department of English, who lent many hours assisting her with essay revisions and the complexities of the multi-phased scholarship application process.
- Ms. Lida Ramos Arce won the CUNY prize in the 2014 David A. Garfinkel Essay Competition, awarded by the Historical Society of the New York Courts. Ms. Arce will be presented with her prize by Judge Jenny Rivera at the annual Law Day ceremony in Albany. Her mentor, Professor Leslie Francis as well as Dr. Jonas Falik and other Business Department faculty members traveled to Albany for the award ceremony.

- For the third year in a row Queensborough students participated in the Undergraduate Research Symposium at Columbia University on March 20 and for the last three years have presented the largest number of poster presentations. Out of a total 22 accepted submissions- fifteen were by Queensborough students. Other presenters came from institutions such as Columbia University, Johns Hopkins University, Cooper Union, The University of Southern California, Rutgers University, Stony Brook University and Syracuse University. Our student presentations were based on research conducted at Queensborough or during internships at Stony Brook University, Binghamton University, The Food and Drug Administration and the New York City-Division of Environmental Protection. Congratulations to our outstanding faculty who selflessly sacrificed their time and spring break to mentor students preparing for such an important event. In particular, Dr. Nidhi Gadura, Department of Biological Sciences and Geology; as well professors from the Department of Chemistry, namely, Drs. Jun Shin, Derek Bruzewicz, Paul Sideris, David Sarno, Soraya Svoronos, and Pedro Irigoyen. Additionally, Drs. John Buoncora and Kee Park from the Electrical Computer and Engineering Technology.
- Sandy Enriquez, who is graduating this spring, was recently offered two competitive internships, one from The City College of the University of New York and one from the University of Tennessee. She was planning to participate in the summer internship program at the University of Tennessee until she was offered an opportunity to conduct research at Princeton University while participating in the Research Experience for Undergraduates Program at the Center for Mid-InfraRed Technologies for Health and the Environment. At Queensborough, Sandy has completed more than 32 credits of Honors classes, has conducted group tutoring, served as President of the Chemistry Club and is currently the President of Phi Theta Kappa. It is such achievements as this which result in exceptional outcomes. Congratulations to Dr. Paris Svoronos of the Department of Chemistry who mentored Sandy in her undergraduate research, the many presentations in various American Chemical Society Conferences and a host of other distinctive scholarly endeavors.
- In other good news, several of our students presented their scientific findings at the 33rd Annual Conference of Empire State Association of Two Year College Biologists on April 12. They are: Viviana Torres, who was awarded third place for Towards the Synthesis of a Potent, Selective, and Covalent Inhibitor of Cysteine Cathepsin L; mentored by Dr. Sanjai Kumar of Queens College. We also acknowledge the hard work and dedication of the following students and their mentors: Christopher Chin and Janil Espinal for Analysis of Tissue Factor Levels in Metastatic Breast Cells; mentored by Drs. Andrew Nguyen and Regina Sullivan, Biological Sciences and Geology; Christian Rivoira for The Effects of Resveratrol Compounds on the Motility and Proliferation of F10 Melanoma Cells, Drs. Morris and Rotenberg of Queens College. Viviana, Christopher, Janil and Christian are all participants in RIMS funded by QCC-NIH Bridges to Baccalaureate Program. Congratulations to all the students and mentors including Dr. Patricia Schneider, Biological Sciences and Geology and Director of the NIH Bridges to Baccalaureate Program.

Periodic Review Report

- A draft of the periodic review report is available on the college's website at <http://www.qcc.cuny.edu/selfStudy/prr.html>. A comment period for the campus community was open until May 2. In addition, open hearings to discuss the draft were held on April 24, 25, and 28. The PRR committee is now working to review, organize, and incorporate where appropriate changes to the report based on the comments and suggestions received. The report is due to Middle States on June 1. Our thanks to all those who participated in the comment period—your input is most appreciated.

FY 15 Budget

- QCC's annual Resource Planning & Allocation Process for the FY 15 budget plan is underway. Divisions and departments have submitted their budget requests based on the FY 15 Strategic Plan, and meetings conducted by Vice President Faulkner and OAA staff will be held with the heads of academic, student services and administrative departments to review preliminary requests. In addition, consultation meetings with the Budget Advisory Subcommittee of the P&B Committee and the Academic Senate Budget Advisory Committee will be scheduled. Budget decisions, contingent upon funding, will be finalized over the summer.

BTECH (Business Technology Early College High School)

- High School Curriculum: The work of the BTECH Curriculum Subcommittee, led by Dr. Birchfield, continues with preparation and discussion of developmental and general education programming including that of the Speech Department. QCC Faculty representing five different academic departments are now participating in the design and development of the programs. In addition, Hoa Tu, Principal of BTECH and Interim Vice President Ward met with the chairs of Academic Literacy and Speech and Theatre and with the Director of Service Learning. Additional required skills are being mapped as conversations with employees in target jobs in the field of Business Technology are interviewed and skills are being identified.
- Marketing: The work of the Marketing Subcommittee, led by Executive Director, Stephen DiDio, included a review of a video whiteboard being developed by SAP Marketing design personnel. The whiteboard will be used for recruiting and information purposes. The committee is also reviewing proposals for a Media Plan for search optimization. All partners were represented at a kick-off meeting to discuss the establishment of a Media/Communication Plan. Objectives of the Media Plan include driving visibility and attendance at BTECH while showcasing the school's opportunities; leverage BTECH to establish relationships with important local leaders, government officials, global education influencers, media and others; reaching the public with one voice and one message about this new school; keeping the public abreast about our progress; and position BTECH as a best practice to scale model across multiple locations.
- Student and teacher recruitment: 116 students, mostly from Queens, are being admitted to the inaugural class in September 2014. This is a diverse and very motivated group of students. Many of the high school teachers have been interviewed, with appointments anticipated July 1.

- BTECH Steering Committee: The Steering Committee has identified two new subcommittees one for Professional Development and the other for Transition, Intervention and Enrichment. Professional Development for teachers, faculty and administrators associated with the program will be designed based on DOE, SAP, QCC and third party programming. An upcoming SAP Sapphire conference, for example, will be a solid introduction for those teachers and faculty who have not worked in the corporate sector and who will benefit from an understanding of the systems, policies and best practices employed at SAP. The Transition, Intervention, and Enrichment committee will focus on the needs of students transitioning from middle school to high school, from high school to college, and from college to employment.

Upcoming Events

- On Sunday, May 18th at 1 p.m., Dr. Steve Luckert, a scholar at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum will give a lecture entitled, Arthur Szyk, Soldier in Art at the Kupferberg Holocaust Resource Center and Archives. Arthur Szyk, a Polish-Jewish artist and activist was an acclaimed illuminator and political illustrator, whose anti-Nazi caricatures were widely published in the United States during WWII.
- On Wednesday, May 28th at 12 p.m., the concluding presentation by student interns in the Asian Social Justice Internship Program will take place in the Kupferberg Holocaust Resource Center and Archives. We thank the Senate Secretary, Joel Kuszai, for his assistance with making this happen.

2. Committee Matters: Composition and Membership

The Committee on Committees has noted in this month's report that all committees are staffed and now the Steering Committee will make its designees to all committees known and soon the President will do likewise.

At this meeting there will be an election for three members of the Committee on Committees to three year terms. Nominees must not be in departments that will already be represented on the Committee on Committees by the continuing members. They need not be members of the Senate to serve.

3. Committee Matters:

A. Structures

The Committee on Committees and the Steering Committee have now completed the first phase of a proposal to restructure the Standing Committees of the Academic Senate to relate the committees to the new MIDDLE STATES ASSOCIATION Standards for Excellence. (More to come in 2014-2015 year

Objectives include:

- To facilitate the operation of a comprehensive institutional approach to assessment via shared governance and institutional structures
- To accommodate the Middle States Association Review Process with least disruption.
- To provide more opportunities for faculty service to the College by increasing the size of committees
- Providing Staggered terms to insure continuity (faculty members are in multiples of three with 3 year terms)
- Each year most of the committees would involve itself in the annual assessment of those areas under its purview. They would make recommendations as to what they think would improve the assessment process.

With three years terms that are staggered now established it is hoped that in 2014-2015 the meeting times of the committees will become fixed and that will facilitate attendance by both faculty and students.

4. University and College Wide Matters with Direct Bearing on the Senate

A. The University Faculty Senate

The University Faculty Senate of The City University of New York last met on April 1, 2014. There were no actions taken.

- B. The CUNY BOT last met on February 24, 2014 and took several actions. Videos are available here: <http://www.cuny.edu/about/trustees/meetings/broadcasts/archive.html>
The next meeting is May 5, 2014 and not in time to report on events for this meeting of our Senate.

5. Actions of the Steering Committee

A. Website:

Over this year the Steering Committee has made considerable efforts to advance the use of the website.

The homepage has been upgraded with information about the nature and operation of the Academic Senate: <http://www.qcc.cuny.edu/governance/academicSenate/index.html>

There is a Senate News and Views area that can present useful information about what the Senate and its committees are doing: <http://www.qcc.cuny.edu/governance/academicSenate/news/index.html>

The Academic Senate website has pages to facilitate both faculty and students learning about the committees when considering volunteering or service on them.

Faculty: http://www.qcc.cuny.edu/governance/academicSenate/What_Faculty_need_to_know.html

Students: http://www.qcc.cuny.edu/governance/academicSenate/What_Students_need_to_know.html

It is hoped that the website will continue to grow and serve the needs of our Colelge community.

B. Voting

Over this year the Steering Committee has made considerable efforts to advance the use of the technology with voting and satisfying the demands of the law at the same time. The Senate minutes contain the actual voting record as recorded by the audience response system program and provides an indication of how many and who were present and how each member of the body voted on each item.

6. Shared Governance Discussions and the Academic Senate

In our readiness to entertain discussion of all other college-related matters, we wish to remind all members of Queensborough's faculty that all meetings of the Academic Senate are open to the public as per the 2006 Perez decision on Open Meetings Law, as noted in Article I, Section 3, b of the Bylaws of the Academic Senate:

Meetings of the Academic Senate shall be subject to the Open Meetings Law and the Freedom of Information Law. Under the Open Meetings Law, the public has the right to attend any meeting of a public body. Any time a quorum of a public body gathers to discuss business, the meeting must be held in public, subject to the right to convene an executive session under certain limited circumstances. Non-members must conform to the usual requirements of parliamentary procedure; the Parliamentarian will interpret and enforce the rules which include that no non-member of the body may speak without the permission of the body.

As always, we pledge to recognize any member of faculty who wishes to contribute to our dialogue.

6. Final Note

As outgoing Chairperson of the Steering Committee of the Academic Senate I want to thank Dr. Emily Tai for her long and distinguished service on the committee and on the Senate and Dr. Joel Kuszai for his service on the committee as well. Without them things would not have gone as well as they have at all.

I want to thank our technology officer as well, Senator Jeffrey Schwartz for the fine job he always does.

The Senate Parliamentarian, Senator Peter Bales, needs to be recognized as well as always at the ready to offer the advice needed.

I hope that all senators working together can move the Academic Senate into the position we all want it to have as the policy making governing body of the College.

I thank all who have offered my advice and criticisms and support in my term of office and wish us all well as we move on with new leadership.

To: Dr. Phil Pecorino, Chair of the Steering Committee of the Academic Senate

From: Dr. Sharon Lall-Ramnarine, Chair of the Awards and Scholarships Committee

Date: March 25, 2014

Subject: Monthly Report - $250K Scholarship Endowment from Dr. Amy Wong in memory of Professor Emeritus Dr. Pak Kuen Wong of the Chemistry Department

The Awards and Scholarships Committee is pleased to make this announcement that we have recently been informed by Vice President Zins of this wonderful gift to our college. The wife of the late Dr. Pak Kuen Wong, Professor Emeritus and former Chairman of the Chemistry Department has contributed a gift of $250K to establish an endowment within the QCC Fund, Inc. to generate funds for annual scholarship(s) for QCC students who take a Chemistry course.

According to the Invest in CUNY campaign office FY 2014 Naming Opportunities Guidelines (page 6): All naming requests must involve a thorough review by the campus to ensure appropriateness and be supported by evidence that the honoree or donor meets the highest values and societal standards.

As such, Vice President Zins has notified the Awards and Scholarships committee and we wanted to notify you of this gift. The Awards and Scholarships Committee is currently reviewing additional details about the donor and endowment in order to endorse this as a named scholarship.

COMMITTEE ON COURSE AND STANDING

To: Dr. Joel Kuszai, Secretary, Academic Senate Steering Committee
From: Dr. Steven Dahlke, Chairperson, Committee on Course and Standing
Subject: Proposal to Remove the “Academic Alert” standing for QCC Students.
Date: April 24, 2014

The Committee on Course and Standing sends the following recommendation to the Academic Senate:

PROPOSAL: To remove the Probationary code of “Academic Alert” Standing for QCC students. (Effective Fall 2014)

Whereas, the Committee on Course and Standing, at their February 28th meeting, voted unanimously to remove the Probationary code of ‘Academic Alert’ from Academic Standing for QCC students; and whereas the vote was suggested by VP Steele and Provost Reiner at a joint meeting with the Admissions and CCS committees on January 31;

and whereas statistical data has shown that the majority of students placed on Academic Alert do not achieve good academic standing nor do they persist to graduate;

Therefore, be it resolved that the Academic Senate adopts as College Policy that the probationary code of “Academic Alert” for Queensborough Community College students, be removed effective fall 2014.

RATIONALE:

Some years ago the College adopted a new probation category, “Academic Alert,” for new students who earned low GPAs their first semester. These students were not put on probation right away, but were notified they were in academic difficulty. (Students on probation have one semester to bring their grades up, or they are academically dismissed at the end of the following term.) In recent years, a significant number of students with very low GPAs after multiple semesters of attendance have been appealing to college committees (CCS, Admissions, and SAP), causing those committee members to ask why the students had been allowed to continue enrollment (and likely use up financial aid) when they were not making academic progress.

During the Fall 2013 term the Retention Management Team reviewed data on the effectiveness of the Academic Alert status, and discovered that it has not been having the desired effect. In fact, of the 1,413 students placed on Academic Alert in Fall 2011, after four semesters, 63.9% have a GPA of 0-0.99 and another 26% have a GPA of 1 - <2. In other words, only 10% of these students had at least a 2.0 GPA after four semesters.

GPA's for 1,413 students placed on Academic Alert in Fall 2011, as of Fall 2013

GPA	Percentage Academic Alert students
0.0 – 0.99	63.9%
1.0 - 1.99	26%
2.0 - 2.99	8.9%
3.0 - 3.99	1.2%

Further, of the original 1,403 students:

- 199 had at some point been dismissed.
- 287 were enrolled at QCC in Fall 2013 with the following GPA distribution:
 - 0 – 0.99 – 61%
 - 1 - 1.99 – 29.3%
 - 2 - 2.99 – 7.7%
 - 3 - 3.99 – 2.1%

The Retention Management Team presented the information to the Committee on Course and Standing, which had originally presented the Academic Alert category to the Senate for approval. The recommendation following discussion was that the status of Academic Alert be eliminated. Instead, students who perform below standard during their first term will be placed on Probation, according to the College's previous policy. At the same time, the letters sent from CCS to students on Probation have been revised to call attention to the seriousness of the situation and to encourage students to take deliberate action, and seek advice and other support services as needed. In addition, the Registrar's Office has initiated an intensive outreach to all students currently on Academic Alert and Probation, through a required Academic Success Workshop before students can register. The office will be tracking the progress of these students.

Rationale: These are title and course description changes. The present title (Word/Information Processing using Microsoft Word for Windows) is cumbersome and too long. Also, the Curriculum Committee in the past has requested that vendors not be mentioned in course titles. The description has also been updated to reflect the requirements of office administration personnel using word processing in business, academic, and professional office environments.

Rationale: QCC has traditionally used the two-letter/three-digit convention of denominating classes, but there is a progressive tendency in course designation to adopt a more efficient model with a three- and four-letter convention that distinguishes subsets of courses within the discipline. The new sequences also reflect the level of learning, with the first digit suggesting the place in the hierarchy and/or sequence of study. The Department of Art and Design is proposing a change of course designation to stay current with this tendency. The department also hopes that the new system will help students to decode the character and relative placement of classes. In the visual arts there is a common distinction made between studio and art history--hence "ARTS" and "ARTH". Queens College has adopted the identical bifurcated designations.

To complete the certificate, students can follow one of the options OR select any 16 credits from the courses listed in any of the options to design an Office Administration Assistant Certificate that meets their future career objectives.*

Rationale: It is being proposed that the Education Office Administration Assistant optional concentration be replaced by a Legal Office Administration optional concentration. The Education Office Administration Assistant (originally “School Secretary Certificate”) was designed for students aspiring to become school secretaries in the New York City Board of Education. BU-900, BU-901, and BU-902 were required in the School Secretary Certificate curriculum. However, times have changed. The New York City Board of Education has not offered the School Secretary exam since 2009 and the demand for BU-900, 901, and 902 has constantly diminished. BU-901 and BU-902 were offered in the Fall 2013 and both courses were cancelled. In the Spring 2013 assessment of BU-900 (School Records and Accounts) the following appears:

“The New York City Board of Education is now using ‘community assistants’ to do the work that was formerly done only by those who passed the school secretary examination. These ‘community assistants’ receive approximately 50% less pay than a licensed school secretary. At present, there are no plans to reopen the school secretary exam.”

At present, the Office Administration Assistant Certificate does not address the demands of the job market for support staff in the legal field. Therefore, a concentration in Legal Office Administration Assistant is needed. The courses listed in the new Legal Office Administration Assistant, Option B, are already in existence. In a recent article published in the Sunday, February 9, 2014 issue of Newsday, the LI Business section headline was “Legal Boom, Long Island’s Law Firms Grow as NYC’s Downsize.” On Long Island, employment in legal services grew by 1,600 in the past five years, rebounding to a 10-year high as law firms have added more lawyers and support staff (State Labor Department data). Since QCC is located on Long Island (Queens) right next to Nassau County, the employment outlook on Long Island for our student population is significant. In addition, students in the Legal option are given the opportunity to take BU-903 (Medical Office Procedures) since many law firms are increasingly dealing with medical lawsuits.

¹ Students who are exempt from MA119 will use MA336 to satisfy the Common Core 1B requirement and must take either CRIM201 or CRIM204 to complete the 60-credit degree.

Rationale: Pursuant to a discussion of course requirements in the Dual/Joint Programs in Criminal Justice at a Justice Academy summit meeting at John Jay College on Feb. 26, 2014, it was decided that changes in the Mathematics requirements are in order. The replacement of MA440 and MA121 with MA336 is believed to be necessary in order to familiarize Criminal Justice students with a kind of mathematics that they are much more likely to encounter and utilize both in upper-level undergraduate courses at John Jay College (e.g., CJBS250 Research Methods and Statistics for Criminal Justice) and in their later careers in the field of Criminal Justice. Dr. David Barnet, John Jay College’s Director of Academic Planning, who oversees the Justice Academy Partnership programs, approved this change.

DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES AND LITERATURES

LA 213: Intermediate Arabic I

3 lecture hours, 3 credits

Prerequisites and/or co-requisites: Arabic LA 112 with a grade of C or higher, or placement by the Department of Foreign Languages.

Course description: Intermediate Arabic I is a third-semester course, continuing to develop listening, speaking, reading, and writing in Modern Standard Arabic (MSA), and fostering acquaintance with colloquial variants of Arabic. The course builds vocabulary as well as knowledge of the Arabic grammar system and conventional Arabic usage within the context of assignments designed to familiarize students with everyday activities in the Arabic-speaking world.

Rationale: The Arabic Language program at Queensborough Community College (QCC) has expanded over the past few years, and elective requirements, especially those students who began their study of Arabic at QCC at the level of LA 112. The intermediate course also establishes the necessary linguistic foundation for more advanced work in Arabic at senior colleges. Together with LA 111 and LA 112, Arabic 213 makes up 12 credits, which can be applied toward a minor in Arabic at senior colleges where available. The steady high enrollment in Arabic classes at QCC is an indicator that Arabic 213 will attract a sufficiently high number of students to warrant its offering as a regular class each semester alongside Elementary Arabic I and II or as individual study with the classes distributed among the Arabic Instructors.

Emphasis is placed on hands on business applications development for mobile Android devices. This course requires computer programming knowledge in applications development with a GUI programming language.

Rationale: As computer technology changes rapidly, the need for curricula updates are urgent. This course is a response to such a need and a necessity to align the CIS curriculum with those at CUNY and elsewhere. The projected enrollment is from 40 to 50 students per semester.

BU 537: Data Security for Business

Prerequisites: BU534

3 credits: 2 class hours, 2 lab hours

Course description: This course is intended to meet the needs of students who want to be able to protect their computers and networks from attacks. The course is designed to provide a truly interactive learning experience through textbook case studies, lectures and hands-on lab projects. The case studies place the student (or student groups) in the role of problem solver, requiring them to apply concepts presented in the text and lectures. The course covers desktop security, Internet security, personal security, wireless network security, and enterprise security.

Rationale: There is high demand for the skills taught in this course:

- 246 million data records of Americans containing personal information such as addresses, Social Security numbers and credit card numbers have been exposed due to weak security.
- A computer connected to the Internet is probed by an attacker for weaknesses every 39 seconds on average.
- Web pages that infect an Internet user's computer by just viewing the site are increasing at a rate of 6,000 new infected Web pages each day.

4. New Dual/Joint Degree Program

Dual/Joint A.A.S./B.S. Degree Program in Nursing with CUNY School of Professional Studies

Rationale: This proposal recognizes the value of having many different paths in nursing education. Associate degree nursing programs are typically housed within community colleges, which traditionally have offered lower tuition costs than four-year programs and provide more remedial services to students who are often first-generation college students. More numerous than four-year colleges, community college programs often provide opportunity for diverse students, including adult learners, as their goal is to service the educational needs of the local community. Thus, associate degree nursing programs provide easier access, enhanced academic support services and a shorter time period for individuals to become licensed registered nurses. These programs should continue. However, as healthcare increases in complexity and requires greater levels of inter-professional collaboration, these graduates should be encouraged to continue their education and obtain a BS degree in Nursing. Trends in the nursing profession point to the need for CUNY to increase its capacity at the baccalaureate level. This includes local and will contribute to CUNY's ability to improve students' career trajectories, and will add registered nurses to the workforce who hold the credentials that clinical agencies desire. With a baccalaureate degree in hand, the program's graduates will be in a position to pursue the graduate level credentials needed to assume leadership positions in health-care and nursing education across the metropolitan area and beyond.

The New York State Education Department, as well as CUNY, advocates for the creation of seamless articulation for graduates of Associate degree to BS in Nursing programs. Many states—North Carolina, Illinois and Oregon—have created statewide projects to ensure that this happens. While continued efforts have been made to expand RN to BS completion programs at senior college within CUNY, there is a limited physical capacity for expansion of seats. Therefore, a new dual-joint program with a community college and the online baccalaureate completion program at the CUNY School for Professional Studies would enhance CUNY's capacity to remain in line with national trends within the nursing profession.
